

10 WAYS OUR CLIENTS USE TICKETS

1) Win New Clients

Taking a prospective client to an event is the perfect opportunity to discuss business and forge a relationship on the personal level- giving you the upper hand.

2) Thank Top Clients

Your top clients have been with you through thick and thin- remind them how much you appreciate their business by giving them tickets to an event that they would appreciate.

3) Spur Sales

Incenting your sales team with rewards like tickets helps keep them motivated and reminds them that you appreciate their efforts.

4) Improve Safety

Many companies must be safety minded. Reward employees with perfect driving/safety records by giving them tickets to an event of their choosing.

5) Entertain Friends & Family

When friends and family come to town, mark the occasion by attending an event. It is any easy and entertaining way to spend the day.

6) Woo The Love of Your Life

His/Her favorite Concert can help ease the nervousness and eliminate awkward silences of a first date, while allowing you to get to know each other.

7) Celebrate Accomplishments

Events worth celebrating are all around, attending an event is the prefect way to celebrate in a memorable and special way.

8) Raise Funds

Raffling off tickets to a big event like the Super Bowl, or the World Series is an easy way to raise money and garner attention for your organization or event.

9) Create Childhood Memories

As a parent you are trying to create happy memories for your children, if you are divorced your time can be limited and attending a Family show can be a great way to bond with your children in an entertaining way.

10) Reward Yourself

You work hard. Reward yourself with a break from the office by attending a Show, Concert or Game—think of it as a mini vacation.
